SURVEY REQUEST FORM

The Cornish Biodiversity Network does not provide an ecological surveying service, however, many of its contributing members do and would welcome the opportunity to survey new sites.

If you have a site of potential biodiversity interest which you would like surveyed, please complete the survey request form and we will endeavour to arrange a suitable survey. The landowner's permission must have been obtained first, plus we need details of the owner in order to notify them of the survey date.

Please note:

If you want a survey undertaken for development purposes, including that needed to accompany a planning application, you should consult a suitable qualified ecological/environmental consultant.

All applications for survey must come with the landowners permission and contact details.
